

TELLS HOW FOLK OF RHEIMS LIVE IN WINE CATACOMBS

Joseph Ringwalt, Back From War Zone, Describes Their Underground Homes.

The life being led by 15,000 survivors of the attack on Rheims, in the champagne catacombs under the city and surrounding vineyards, was pictured today by Joseph G. Ringwalt of this city on the strangest phase of experience brought by the exigencies of the great war. Ringwalt, who is New York representative for a big French wine exporting company, returned to the city aboard the French line steamer

OVER a hundred and forty thousand new babies have come to town since a year ago today.

Naturally we are much interested in such statistics, because just as naturally we have had the high honor of supplying the "first things" for so many of them: first shirts, first wraps, first socks, first shoes for first steps, first everything.

We don't know the statistics regarding baby's aunts and grandmothers and cousins—but certainly a great number of them have come to learn that "they never pay more at Best's."

TROLLEY HITS AUTO, HURLS 6 THROUGH WINDOW OF STORE

Women and Girls Catapulted
Through Glass—Three Badly Hurt.

Six women and girls and one man hurt, an automobile wrecked, the vestibule of a street car shattered, the plate-glass front of a grocery store demolished and the chauffeur of the automobile arrested, are the incidents catalogued by the police to-day as the net results of a big seven-passenger touring car being used without permission this morning.

The owner of the automobile is John Collins, a book agent, of No. 24 West One Hundred and Eighth Street. The chauffeur who had the Collins car out, and who is held on a grand larceny charge to-day, is William J. Jans, of No. 249 West One Hundred and Eleventh Street.

The women and girls hurt were Jans's guests in a ride about the city. They were on their way home at 12:10 o'clock this morning when Jans tried to dart in front of a street car at Lexington Avenue and Twenty-seventh Street. Before Motorman McNally could apply the brakes, the street car hit the rear end of the automobile.

The vestibule of the street car was wrecked, while the auto plunged straight for the plate-glass window of the Gramercy Park grocery on the northeast corner, C. A. Gerken, owner. With a crash that was heard for blocks, the machine hit the front of the store, and the passengers were catapulted from their seats into a pyramid of fruit and canned goods that had been used to embellish the window.

The car turned over, and several of the party were pinned beneath it. Policeman Dunn, assisted by bystanders, pulled out the car and picked up its scattered occupants.

Miss Gerken, daughter of the owner of the store, opened the place and helped apply restoratives. Dr. Sullivan took two of the party in an ambulance to Bellevue. The names of the injured were: Mrs. Mary Connolly, forty-eight, of No. 240 East Twenty-seventh Street; Miss Mary Traynor, Sadie Traynor, Margaret Traynor, Annie Traynor, sisters, all of No. 24 East Nineteenth Street, and Miss Annie Traynor, their aunt, of the same address.

Miss Annie Traynor, the aunt, was injured internally and her pelvis was

SAYS HE'S A BISHOP AND NOT BUNGO MAN

Miraglia Accused of Begging Money for an Imaginative Mission in Garfield, N. J.

A man giving the picturesque name Paula Beskovo Miraglia was arrested last night in his home at Fifth Avenue and One Hundred and Thirtieth Street, by Detectives Busby and Hyland, charged with obtaining alms under false pretenses. His assistant, Arthur Heym, was arrested at his home, No. 541 East One Hundred and Nineteenth Street. Both prisoners were arrayed in black clerical garb, and Miraglia wore a large gold cross on a heavy gold chain.

The men were taken before Magistrate Dodd, in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn. John D. Godfrey of the Bureau of Charities went to Garfield, N. J., where the so-called "mission" for which the prisoners solicited alms was said to be, and reported that he found only an empty shack. Both men said they were not guilty.

"I am a Bishop," said Miraglia. "I am Bishop of the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church—Which is not to be confused with the Roman Catholic Church." The prisoners were held for examination, as was Paul Alexander Horbarth, an ex-collector, Deputy United States Marshal Me-

BABE NEEDS $2,500 A YEAR.

Seven-months-old George Tyson, son of John H. Tyson of New York and Riverside, Conn., needs $2,500 a year for clothing, food and toys, according to a report filed in the Surrogate's Court to-day by Emory B. Buckner, appointed referee to determine how much of the youngster's income ought to be expended for his support.

The baby has an income of $4,500 a year from an estate of $70,000 and is heir to a fortune of $200,000. His father's income is but $18,000 a year, the referee finds. He must pick this for the expenses of two automobiles, because his country home is inaccessible by trolley, and to keep ten servants. He pays his former wife $5,000 a year alimony and also must pay interest on a debt of $75,000.

TRAIN KILLS TWO MEN.

Engineer Ignorant of Disaster Outside Communiapaw Terminal. When the train leaving the Communiapaw terminal of the Central Railroad of New Jersey at 7:15 this morning reached Elizabeth railroad men noticed that the front and running gear of the locomotive was covered with blood. The engineer and fireman denied having hit any one.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY.

Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick,
Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover that dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Adv.
